Course Description

Design of custom strategies to address real-life issues in the development of biocompatible and biomimetic devices for biotechnology or biomedical applications. Teams work with a client in the development of projects that incorporate various aspects of biomedical engineering including instrumentation, biomechanics, biotransport, tissue engineering and others. Emphasizes formal engineering design principles; overview of intellectual properties, engineering ethics, risk analysis, safety in design and FDA regulations are reviewed. Designs and prototypes are developed in BME 4882. BME 4883 focuses on implementation, testing, and iteration. 3 credits.

Course Pre-Requisites / Co-Requisites

Prerequisites: BME 4503, BME 4503L, BME 4409, BME 4882 and senior standing.

Course Objectives

Upon the completion of this course, students will:

1. Apply the design process methodology to the development of a solution to a biomedical engineering problem.
2. Demonstrate the process of ideating, designing, prototyping, and verifying a biomedical engineering related technology, device, or method.
3. Become effective communicating technical details and rationale for design decisions.

4. Gain experience working on teams, initiating tasks and reporting deliverables.
5. Appreciate the professional and ethical obligations of a professional biomedical engineer.

Professional Component (ABET):

This course will prepare students to apply the design process to solve problems at the interface of engineering and medicine. Specific to the UF BME program educational outcomes, students will gain experience applying a knowledge of the design process to solving open problems and proving the feasibility of a prototype solution. An integral part of this experience will be the professional communication with industry, clinical and faculty experts as well as technical writing and presentations.

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

Attendance is expected, required, and noted by the instructors for each class. Excess absences, class disruption, and lack of engagement will influence the class participation grade. All assignments are due at the beginning of class. Late work will not be accepted. If you experience an illness or an event that makes it challenging to keep up with course materials, please let me know ASAP - I am here to help.

Please review your student handbook to ensure that you understand the requirements for a university approved absence. Excused absences are consistent with university policies in the undergraduate catalog (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>) and require appropriate documentation.

Evaluation of Grades

Assignment	Percentage of Final Grade
Out of Class Deliverables (Team + Individual)	12%
Design Reviews (3 @ 7% each)	21%
Design History File (Technical Documentation)	35%
Final Presentation/Design Showcase Demo	20%
Peer Evaluation (Individual)	10%
Course Evaluation	2%
TOTAL	100%

Grading Policy

Letter grade conversion plan:

≥92	90-91	87-89	83-86	80-82	77-79	73-76	70-72	67-69	63-66	60-62	< 60

In order to graduate, students must have an overall GPA and an upper-division GPA of 2.0 or better (C or better). Note: a C- average is equivalent to a GPA of 1.67, and therefore, it does not satisfy this graduation requirement. More information on UF grading policy may be found at:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

In-Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.
