Course Description

Biomedical engineers are called on to develop practical solutions to various problems encountered in healthcare and clinical practice. In this course, students learn and identify such problems through direct immersion in the clinical environment. Students will shadow a clinician (one-on-one) for 1-3 hours per week where they will identify a clinical problem and propose a solution. 1 credit hour.

Course Pre-Requisites / Co-Requisites

Pre-Requisite: BME 6018 Clinical Correlations in BME or permission from instructor

Course Objectives

a) Identify significant clinical problems and needs.

The best way to learn about clinical problems is to be immersed in the clinical environment. Students will be matched with a clinician and will shadow him/her in the clinic and/or operating room over the semester (1-3 hours/week on average). The principles of needs identification and screening are covered in the BME6XXX (Clinical Correlations in BME).

b) Develop an engineering solution to an unmet clinical need.

Students will develop a possible solution to address the unmet clinical need identified during clinical immersion.

c) Communicate ideas to a broad audience in written and verbal formats.

Students will communicate ideas with their preceptor for feedback, and will also write a final report.

Materials and Supply Fees

Course Schedule

**Note this is subject to change at instructor's discretion or to accommodate clinicians' schedules****

Week 1	Course overview Preceptor assignment discussed – proactive student search. Complete HIPPA Certification
Week 2	Meet with preceptor Submit first weekly report
Weeks 3-15	1-3 hrs per week, submit weekly report every week with exception of spring break and/or Thanksgiving (depending on semester). Weekly reports are due by Friday at midnight.

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

This class does not meet. Students are expected to communicate directly with their preceptor to arrange a suitable schedule for shadowing that meets the course requirements (1-3 hours/week on average). Students must submit a weekly report to the instructor that summarizes the shadowing experience for that week.

Students who miss clinical meetings/shadowing or assignment deadlines for reasons not covered under the UF attendance policy will have 15% deducted from coursework grade per day late.

Weekly Reports: Students are required to submit a report each week summarizing their shadowing experience, progress in identifying a clinical need, and/or progress in developing a solution.

The highest professional conduct is expected in the clinic. When attending clinical grand rounds, please abide by the College of Medicine dress code (no jeans, sneakers, flip-flops, etc.). Any reports of unprofessional conduct by a student in the course could result in the student being removed for the course entirely.

Background Research: In order to understand and propose solutions to clinical problems, students are expected to independently conduct the necessary background research and review of the literature. This includes anatomy, physiology, state-of-the-art therapies, etc.

Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/regulations>) and require appropriate documentation. Additional information can be found here: <https://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/graduate/regulations/>

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. ## In-Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.
